

Theme of this thesis is Ethics of social work with people with learning difficulty, exactly how is ethics connected with social work with people with learning difficulty. Topic is devoted to long-term and based on my work with these people.

The introductory part deals with the definition of several ethical theories, principles which are reflected in social work. Another chapter is devoted to concept of social work with people with learning difficulties and its specifics. In conclusion are given ethical dilemmas in social work and case reports. Case reports describe the various ethical dilemmas of social workers work aimed at people with learning difficulties.