

Abstract

This work focuses on the issue of the skinhead subculture in the former Czechoslovakia and monitors roots and developments, which are developed, especially in relation to social changes after 1989. Attempts to clarify the profiles of individual streams, characterized by its social and cultural positions. Finally, it deals with relationships and understandings of the subculture majority.