Title of the thesis: Provence mirrored in its legends

Keywords: legend, myth, tradition, folklore, Provence, anthropology

Abstract:

The subject of the bachelor's thesis is the French region Alpes-Côte-d'Azur and its legends. The first part is focused on the region itself from several aspects. There is the geographical location, the climate and the typical products of the said region. Furthermore, a part of the thesis consists of the history of the region spreading from the antiquity until the middle ages. A very significant part is that of the language environment of Provence-Alpes-Côte-d'Azur. The legends, which are sorted into the historical development of the region, are then individually analyzed.
