

The author seeks to identify the key elements of the Lukashenka's first presidential term perception in Tyden magazine. This perception is compared with the Lukashenka regime selfpresentation. The autor uses Norman Fairclough's Analysing Discourse as a theoretical background. Firstly we are identifying the main themes and furthermore the way how they are elaborated during the image analysis.