

The aim of the present thesis is to translate Chapter IX. “The Rise of Terrorism” from Bernard Lewis’s The Crisis of Islam from English into Czech and to lay out an analysis of the translation and the source text. The theoretical part includes source text analysis, typology of translation problems, typology of translation shifts and description of the selected translation method. A copy of the source text is attached.