

Abstrakt (anglicky)

The bachelor thesis deals with the issue of internet usage in public libraries.

The bachelor thesis describes the following topics. Firstly, it describes the definition of the term “Internet” and its overall history and development. The second chapter deals mainly with legislative measures of providing access to information and the functioning of public libraries from domestic and foreign terms. Further work is devoted to projects internetisation, which took place in the Czech public libraries. The penultimate part of the work deals with the Internet services that libraries provide to its users and the future of the Internet in the libraries of the Czech Republic.

The last part includes the evaluation of survey that was focused on the Internet usage in public libraries.