

Abstract

The objective of this study, which had been written between 2003 and 2008, was to gain, order and analyse demographic information about the population of the region, which used to be a part of Czechoslovak Republic in 20th century. The region is specific. It used to be a part of four different countries during the 20th century, affected by both world wars. Even though the lack of the information about the population, I suppose this study could offer the basic view on the problems.
