

ABSTRACT

Author: Hana Žváčková
Institution: Department of Social Medicine,
Medical Faculty of Charles University in Hradec Kralove,
Department of Nursing
Title: Workload of the nurses, caring for geriatric patients, their point of view at an old age, dying and the death
Leader: Jaroslava Pečenková
Number of pages: 164
Number of attachments: 10
Year of Completion: 2011
Keywords: ageing, old age, dying, death, workload of the nurses

This thesis deals with workload of the nurses, caring for geriatric patients, investigates their point of view at the old age, dying and the death. In the first chapter of the theoretical part, issues of the ageing and the old age is described. Mentioned is history of care for the elderly, as well as contemporary forms of care. In the second chapter is described point of view at the death and dying in history to the present. In the last chapter of the theoretical part is mentioned stress and workload of the nurses, which could end in burnout syndrome. Empirical part of my work is dealing with a quantitative research. Examined sample contains nurses caring for geriatric patients. Objective of the theses, is to determine and valorize the point of view of the nurses, at the old age, dying and death and their workload.