

Abstract:

Title of the thesis: Quantitative characteristics of a gaming performance of the Czech national women team at the World Championships in 2010.

The goal of the paper: The goal of this paper is a characteristics of a team game performance in games on the World Cup 2010. The generally method of collection data will be observed in the analysis of gaming performance details and registration type of quantitative indicators.

Methodology: The Quantitative analysis of a team performance videorecording (KAVTÝM).

Results: The results should show the value of individual indicators in comparison with indicators of opponents.

Keywords: Basketball, team game performance, defensive activity, offensive activity.