

Abstract

The thesis „Customs of Muslim family in Czech Republic“ is focused on the traditions and customs of Muslim family from the point of view of young Muslims who live in the Czech Republic, concretely in Prague. In the opening chapters islam, its origin and five principles of Islamic religion are introduced. Family, marriage, Muslim traditions, customs, feasts, ceremonies, celebrations and nourishment are emphasised in the following chapters. In the conclusion of the theoretical part, history of Islam and Muslims in Europe and Bohemian countries is mentioned and Muslim congregation and Islamic education in Prague are introduced as well.

Second part of the thesis consists of empirical research. Methods and aims of the research are defined. Respondents and the analysis of data are described as well. In the conclusion there are summarized information about traditions and customs which Muslims living in Prague keep and why.

Keywords: Family, Marriage, Islam, Prague, Traditions, Customs