

This diploma thesis maps the history of Basketball Club of Strakonice. It describes its origin and further formation. In the introduction I have set the development of basketball in a global and also national context. In the second part I described basketball within its regional form. The history is chronologically divided into consecutive periods. This work also contains rosters of player and trainers. I have also added specific archival data to support successes and failures of the team.