

This bachelor thesis deals with institutional and protective education in school facilities with accentuation in children diagnostic institute. The legislative changes related to these facilities, i.e. the amendments to the Act No. 109/2002 Coll. on execution of institutional or protective education in school facilities and on preventive educational care in school facilities and on amendment to other Acts, as amended, in connection eighth the adoption of the New Civil Code (Act. No. 89/2012 Coll. are the main theme. This thesis describes a history of institutional education, legislative foundations and basic structure of the institutional and protective education in the Czech republic.

The aim of this thesis is to map all the consequences of changes that have occurred or will soon occur due to the amended Acts.

A questionnaire survey in which the employees of facilities for execution of institutional and protective education responded to questions related to this topic is included in this thesis.