

Abstract

The thesis deals with the issue of establishment of the supervised injecting center for the drug users in the Czech Republic. Target of thesis is monitor public opinion on drug consumption rooms among inhabitants of the capital city Prague.

The theoretical part deals with the explanation of terms related to tertiary prevention of addictive behavior, especially the principles of the Public Health and the Harm Reduction. The theoretical part also includes information about practice of existing drug consumption rooms in the World and Czech Republic possibilities to the establishment of the supervised injecting center.

The research probe detects with questionnaire method the opinion on the drug consumption rooms in the sample of Prague residents. The investigation was partially complemented by an analysis of online discussions of Internet information articles from the year 2013 of the subject the establishment of drug consumption room in Prague.

The results show that more than half of survey respondents agree with the introduction of drug consumption room in the capital city Prague. The results are significant differences in the qualitative responses reasons of agreement or disagreement with the establishment of services between respondent of questionnaire and debaters of online discussions. Most of debaters, without 4 persons, disagreed with introduction of the supervised injecting center in Prague.

Key words

The drug consumption room – Prevention - Harm reduction – Public Health – injecting drug users