

TITLE:

Personal safety in emergency situations in school education programme in the specific elementary school.

ABSTRACT:

Each elementary school in the Czech Republic must be in accordance with applicable laws incorporated the issue of protection of human emergencies in their school education system. Primary schools are based on the Framework Educational Programme for Basic Education and Ministry guideline no.: 12050/03-22 from 4th March 2013. The aim of this bachelor's thesis is to determine the state of incorporation the issue of protection of human emergencies in school education system in ZŠ Jižní IV., what is the level of knowledge in this area for children of the 5th and 9th grade in this school. Based on the results there will be proposed solution how the issue of human emergencies might be provided and incorporated in the school education system and in all subjects. Furthermore recommended the program and the project „Defence day” for students of all ages. A small survey among head masters of elementary schools in Prague 4 is observed, as perceived by the issue of protection of human emergencies in teaching in their schools.

KEYWORDS:

School Education Programme for primary schools, Personal safety in emergency situations, responsible behaviour in situations when health and personal safety are endangered, natural disasters, warning signals, first aid.