

Abstract

Title: The basic aspects of self-defence

Objectives: The principal aim of this thesis is describe the basic aspects of self-defence, like criminological factors, phases of conflict, expression of stress and the legal problems of self-defence.

Methods: Application, processing and interpretation of informations from scholarly publications.

Results: The result of this thesis is summary of individual aspects of self-defence in common civil life.

Keywords: self-defence, conflict, circumstances excluded lawlessness