

ABSTRACT OF THE THESIS

Name: Bc. Veronika Coufalová, DiS.

Specialization: Adictology

Head of the thesis: Mgr. Jaroslav Vacek

Opponent: Ing., Mgr., Bc. Vendula Běláčková

Pages: 83

The name of the thesis:

EFFECT OF PARTIAL PROHIBITION ON RESTAURANTS FROM THE PERSPECTIVE OF EMPLOYEES: A QUALITATIVE INVESTIGATION

This thesis deals with how the prohibition reflected in the attitudes and behavior of employees and the behavior of consumers in restaurants and bars. The theoretical part is focused on the main substances alcohol and methanol, next on the related topics methanol cases and related facts in criminology. Another chapter is aimed at the prohibition in the country. The research was carried out through qualitative methods of data collection, which was formulated in the form of interviews, which were designed according to the draft of the questionnaire. This research was anonymous, respondents were informed of the ethical rules and the possibility of withdrawing from the research file. Next were used methods expert estimates for research changes in behavior and the method of triangulation. In the research was included 30 restaurants and bars selected nomination technique. Results are evaluated on the basis of data transferred from the audio recording into Excel spreadsheets, where it was possible to insert other observations during the interview.

Keywords:

Alcohol, methanol, prohibition, restaurant, consumption