

Abstract:

Bulgarian Parties and Political System after 1989

Marie Stojanovová

The Bachelor thesis will be focused on the development of Bulgarian parties and party lines. The time context will be limited to the period after the fall of the Communist regime. A close attention will be paid to the analysis of Bulgarian party system, especially on the basis of the phenomena of fragmentation and polarization, both typical for the 90's. The theoretical basis consists in the comparative study of transitions to democracy and of the electoral systems.
