

This thesis deals with the law regulation of hunting which has not doubtful place in czech law systém and it shows tradition of law regulation of hunting in the Czech republic. This thesis deals with shooting community also with the responsibility for damage, this work deals with the question of the raising and huntig of the game wich is connected to the law of hunting. There are also said often discussed things as question of responsibility for damage. Some Attention of this thesis is focused on the new conception of poaching according to the new Criminal Code which is effective since 1.1.2010. There are also mentioned some juridical decisions which are concerned with the law of hunting and not only connected to the crime of poaching but also concerned with offences and also with the character of law of hunntig. The work analyses mainly the contemporous law of hunting.