

ABSTRACT:

This thesis contains a set of real-life problems solved using quadratic equations. The aim is to gather available practical problems, with which students of all ages can meet at school or in everyday life and create additional model problems that could be used in teaching or mathematical competitions. Part of this work are pictures for a better understanding of some tasks. Images were created in Geogebra.

