

Title: Role of special education teacher at higher secondary school

Abstract:

The diploma thesis is addressed to the role of a special education teacher at higher secondary school. The diploma thesis suggests both theoretic and practical incentives for special education consultancy and as well as the way of supporting students and teachers. The questionnaire analysis illustrates the contribution of special education teacher for the educational process at higher secondary school.

Key words: higher secondary school, special education teacher, special education consultancy, supporting students and teachers