

This bachelor writing is dealing with the problematic of amateur caregivers who take care of old family members. This writing analyses the support and resources for family carers, the problems, load and pitfall of this care. This writing pays attention to old age and family. It issues from expert literature, available research works, information from MPSV and enquiry in Brno and surroundings.