

This bachelor thesis describes the history of choral singing in Ústí nad Orlicí, focusing on its influence on the contemporary musical environment. The thesis clarifies the role of choirs in the musical history of Ústí nad Orlicí and lists all choirs and vocal groups that have worked in the town, including those that are active today.