

Annotation

Diploma thesis "Prevention of sexually risk behaviour of youth: role of the State and Non-Governmental Organizations" deals with the functions and roles of State and Non-Governmental Organizations in area of research. The first task of this diploma thesis is the analysis and description of the sexually risk behaviour of youth on the state horizontal level. Another objective is to create a list of Non-Governmental Organizations active in this area. Research is about roles, provision, activities and forms of cooperation between State and Non-Governmental Organizations. Description is created on the based of the qualitative research with thorough data secondary analysis and partly-structured interviews with the representatives of organizations dedicated to prevention of this socio-pathological phenomenon. Based on achieved surveys there are conclusions and recommendations for improvement prevention of sexually risk behaviour of youth in Czech Republic in the last part of the dissertation.

Keywords

Prevention, sexually risk behaviour, HIV, AIDS, youth, Non-Governmental Organizations, polity, public administration, cooperation, role