

Abstract

Bachelor's thesis have teoretical-empiric character. This work is focused on identification of educational needs of nurses. It deals with historici view of nurses education in the world and in the Czech republic. It formulates general view of nurses on present education system and it finds their education needs. Empiric part of thesis deals with motivation and reasons of next education and detects nurses opinions about these issues.

Keywords: nurse, learning, education, motivation