INFRINGEMENT OF LAW-GIVEN REGULATION WHEN CREATING INNER RULES (FOR CLUB OR CAMP) ó in dependence on law-awareness of the authors

ABSTRACT:

Thesis řThe infringement of law-given regulations when creating inner rules (for clubs or camps) in dependence on law-awareness of the authorsř describes the relation between the frequency of violating legal regulations and the legal awareness of the authors of inner rules. This thesis is based on the theoretical knowledge of legal regulations obligatory for organizations dealing with free-time activities or voluntary education. The theoretical part is focused on the competence of chief operatives and the delegation of creating inner rules. The practical part consists of analysis of a questionnaire and a sample of written documents and compares the theoretical knowledge with obtained data. The thesis also offers alternatives for further improvements in the area.
