

The bachelor thesis deals with integration of handicapped children and youths in the camp "Společenství harmonie těla a ducha". Goal of the thesis is to present non-profit organisation "Společenství harmonie těla a ducha", to focus on issue of integration and to analyse scale of integration within the frame of particular activities of the camp. Another goal is to make a suggestion for measures for next running of the camp for the year 2014. Following basic terms are described in this thesis: "integration" and "free time in the camp". Text is divided into two part: theoretical one and practical one. Those two parts are connected through each chapters. Proposals for better integration in the year 2014 are mentioned. Closing part of the thesis summarizes the results which were found out by participating in the camp.