

Abstract

Succession disputes and the solutions thereto are interesting topic that affects succession law and which is joined with the death of an individual and with the succession to his or her property. The aim of this work is to outline the possible disputes not only in probate proceedings, but outside of it and the regulation of protection of legitimate heirs from my point of view as an employee of the notary (public).