

ABSTRACT:

Final thesis analyzes some managerial skills SEP coordinators in the implementation of the Man and Nature to School Education Programmes. Verifies whether and to what extent the targeted use of managerial skills coordinators SEP especially from the perspective of communication.

The work is based on the management theory of leadership. It uses the theoretical knowledge of the process of creation and effective functioning team. Another starting point for the documents related to curriculum reform in secondary schools in the Czech Republic.

With the help of controlled structured interviews and additional survey was able to chart above issues and show some „best practices“ applicable in other schools.

KEYWORDS:

Management skills, School Education Programme, SEP coordinator, educational area Man and Nature, implementation, team, team roles