

Rigorous thesis: Sexual criminality against children (penal, criminologic and criminalistic aspects)

Abstract

This rigorous work called Sexual criminality against children (penal, criminologic and criminalistic aspects) deals with sexual criminality against children from several points of view. The aim of this work is primarily to understand the complicated issues of this kind of criminality. Outstanding aims of this work are summary of possibilities of fight against sexual criminality against children and suggestion of new possibilities. This rigorous work is divided into three parts. The first part characterises offenders, victims, prevention and occurrence of sexual criminality against children in the Czech republic. The second part, the penal part, analyses particular crimes against children from the legal side. The last part deals with criminalistic method and tactics, which is used in investigation. The summary comprises partial summaries of the work.