

Abstract

Purpose of this work is to describe the actual situation of unaccompanied minors in the Czech Republic. Despite the fact that numbers of UAMs is descent for a long time, interesting migration waves can be observed. Also the system of UAM care changed dramatically through the last 15 years and there is a significant role of the NGOs. This work is divided into 4 parts. First part describes analysis of UAMs using chosen migration theories; the second part is describing development of governmental UAM care since 2000. In the third part are characterized roles of the NGOs and IGOs in UAM issue and some chosen projects of UAM care. In the last part author depicts some issues frequently connected with UAMs. Main merit of this work is the description of the working of Facility for children of foreign nationals after change of governmental conception connected with UAMs in 2012, which hasn't been processed yet.
