In this bachelor thesis I would like to highlight the issue of acquired heart defects and their operational solutions. This work contains of anatomy, causes, symptoms of treatment and valvular types of replacements. Also discusses cardio rehabilitation refunds after surgery. During writing this work I have realized that it is very important to do the rehabilitation after surgery. I also deepen my knowledge about the early rehabilitation in hospital care. In the empirical part, I want to point out to the nursing problems with patients after heart valve replacement on the day of arrival at the rehabilitation early center and then 14th and 28th day of spa treatment.
