

Abstract

In this work I tried to outline the term “change in psychotherapy“at the theoretical level and subsequently in the practical qualitative analysis of therapeutic cases. The theoretical part explains general parts such as a psychotherapeutics process, relations, change and change in psychotherapy. The practical part of the work is analysis which has a qualitative character.

Keywords: Psychotherapy, psychotherapeutic process, change.