

Annotation

Title : Position, tasks and education of military nurses and medics in garrison infirmaries.

Key words: Military medical service of the army of the Czech Republic, military nurse and medic, the law no. 96/2004, it includes for lifetime education, registration, programme of continual military education for nurses after 2006

The main goal was to characterize position, activities and education of military nurses and medics working in garrison infirmaries. To provide a complex view the work was divided into three main parts. The introductory part is focused on the structure of military health care system. The basic element of providing health care in the army, garrison infirmaries, is discussed in detail. The next part is focused on tasks of military nurses and medics in garrison infirmaries and also on their work and position. The last part presents the education of nurses. It briefly summarizes possibilities of education based on the new legislation. The possibilities of education in specific military environment are also discussed. The research part is targeted at specific questions on military nurses and medics serving in garrison infirmaries. Questions deals with knowledge of the Law no. 96/2004, registration and the capability of providing the first aid and to educate this topic.

přeložil: pplk. Ing. ANTOS Karel