

Annotation

The aim of this bachelor work is to compare the quality, the level and the system of the nurse education in Czech republic and in Switzerland. In the theoretic part is described the graduate end continual education for this profession, its history, ways of control of the education and the system of the mutual recognition. The research part of this work is concerned with the evaluation and interpretation of the results acquired in the opinion poll among czech and swiss students and nurses. Further is separately discussed the opinion of expert teachers.