

Annotation

ICU psychoses and delirium in cardiosurgical post-op ICU with the point of nurse

This graduation thesis is aimed on the problem of patients with the development of ICU psychoses, delirium during hospitalization in cardio surgery ICU with the point of nurse care. In the part of theory there are descriptions of general definitions, pathophysiology, and diagnosis of mental disorders, their symptomatology and etiology. As well there is mentioned monitoring of these patients, pharmacology prevention and the treatment of these cases. In more detail the nursing is described, the interest is aimed on the basis of nursing, on the prevention of complications and establishment of the quality of nursing.

In the part of clinical practice there is the description of real clinical data and symptoms acquired from medical documentation and from own clinical practise. The majority of results is presented in graphs describing each parametrs.