Abstract:

Mentally impaired adults have an opportunity to use a scale of different social services. This work deals with its particular scheme at the district of Benešov and brings up the list of social services with an accent on their availability. Via the analysis of the services and needs made by the qualitative research method there are conclusions made about the future needs of mentally impaired adults in the region.