

Annotation

Social Support for Nurses in Intensive Care Units

Bachelor work deals with the problematics of social support for nurses in the intensive care units. The theoretic part defines the social support, describes the problematics of the social support, the psychology and psychological hygienics of the nurse. The empiric part presents results of a questionnaire research in 100 nurses who work in the intensive care units of different clinical disciplines in the University Hospital in Hradec Králové.