

Magnetic field of equatorial current loop around Schwarzschild (or Kerr) black hole has been studied in many papers and solutions expressed in different forms. In this work we summarize derivations of some of these solutions, illustrate them on specific examples and compare these examples. We also indicate analytic comparison of some of the formulas. Published formulas lead, as expected, to same results, but some of them are more convenient for numerical evaluation.