

The Transformation of Norwegian Photojournalism after the Second World War is devoted to the analysis of the pictures published by the daily Verdens Gang between 1945 and 2011. The theoretical part of the thesis deals with the historical development of Norway, the local press, the current media scene, including its key players.