

Architectonic and city planning development of Litomyšl town in 20. century

Abstract

The topic of master thesis is architectural development in Litomyšl town during 20th century. The development of the city will be set to the context of historical background and social-political and economic situation.

Thesis will introduce architects and their work especially from 1990's including comprehensive changes in urban environment of the city, including the revitalization program of the city, which continues till now.

The aim of master thesis is to evaluate architectural development of Litomyšl city during the last century and define the influences and the qualities of modernization of such historical town.

Key terms: Litomyšl, architecture, city planning, revitalisation