

Abstract

HAVRÁNEK P.: Inventory of mineralogical localities of Kutná Hora and Žďár region.

Thesis

Faculty of Education, Charles University in Prague, Department of Biology and Environmental Studies

Supervisor: doc. RNDr. Vasilis Teodoridis, Ph.D

The main objective of this thesis is the inventory of categories of Kutná Hora and Žďár district. Inventory category as condition of the sites, finds success, safety, accessibility, accompanying rocks, minerals and genesis type sites have express important information about the characteristics of the sites of both regions of interest at the moment. Locations that are identified as most important, they are then further processed and photographically documented. In addition to mineralogical inventory locations are processed with regard to their use in organizing geological excursions to the region.