

Abstract

As lege artis Medicinæ is known such way of treatment and diagnosis, which is consistent with current scientific knowledge and practice. Literally the term means according to the law. Incorrect procedure medical worker is classified as non lege artis. In the context of criminal responsibility is the subject of a criminal offense in particular health professional (usually a physician) are typically the object: life, health, human fetus and interest in the correct medical procedures. Object of the attack is a person. Criminal Code of such conduct typically as non lege artis includes crimes against life, against health offenses endangering life or health, crimes against pregnant women. Expert is in the criminal proceedings usually required in order to assess the correctness of the chosen treatment procedure by an independent expert.