

In my diploma thesis I focused on the issue of protection of employees at the employer's insolvency. The aim of this thesis is to assess the appropriate process through which will be satisfied the wage claims of employees. For this purpose, the work defines terms related to the issue as an employee, employer, insolvency, wage claims with regard to their definition contained in Act No. 118/2000 Coll., on protection of employees in the event of employer's insolvency. In the second part of the diploma thesis I focused on proceedings conducted by the Labour Office. Finally, I analyzed findings on satisfaction of wage claims of employee.
