

Abstract

This diploma thesis deals with an institute called agreement on guilt and punishment from many points of view. Firstly the diploma thesis introduces the agreement on guilt and punishment into concept named restorative justice. This concept is also a ground for another forms of diversions in criminal proceeding, which is mentioned immediately. Further in this thesis the agreement on guilt and punishment is assessed de lege lata. There are also some suggestion de lege ferenda mentioned in connection with an evaluation of a valid version. In the end of this thesis there are shown some psychological and sociological facts, which are immanent to every single process of application of agreement on guilt and punishment.