

Abstract

The aim of this work is to complete the view of the Czech gramatics and other studies to the language question of the inraction of possessive adjectives and find out, how the Czech publicists working in chosen commercial media verse in this question of language. In a teoretical part we tried to sum up a picture of possessive adjectives in circumstance Czech linguistics, in a practical part we explained how we approach to the creation of our questionnaire about the use of possessive adjectives of chosen publicists and we described the results of our survey. The main finding was that our respondents tend to answer registry and prefer possessive adjectives before the genitive. This work is beneficial because it summarizes the knowledge referred to in grammars on the subject of possessive adjectives and shows how Czech writers of selected periodicals versed in issues of possessive adjectives.