

Software development is much easier with a correct project plan. In our work we study design and implementation of the web system for creating project plans. Users of the system make records about their work and they enter development progress of the tasks in the projects. Emphasis is placed on clearly organized project tree structure with the information about project progress and current costs. The system is programmed in the PHP scripting language. Data are stored in the MySQL database.