

The thesis Importance of Bernard Bolzano for education will give the reader opportunity to get to know Bernard Bolzano from two different spheres. The first takes the descriptive role and explain the historical context of Bolzano's life and work. The second one gives a closer look to Bolzano's pedagogical work. The task here is to go deeper into the subject and represent the Bolzano's motivation and philosophical background for choosing the teacher career, shows how his pedagogical work looks like in the practice and what heritage he left behind. Last but not least Bolzano will be put in to the dialogue with today's pedagogy. These two mentioned spheres are represneted by two chapters in the thesis, which supports each other in the one goal – to show the Bolzano's contribution to the pedagogical subject. The thesis should show to the reader in which particularly lie in this contribution and thus inspire today's pedagogy – especially in the motivational sphere.
