

Animelib is Java library, which visualizes data structures. It is designated for user-friendly visualization of algorithms. User-friendliness is done in two ways – programmer of algorithm has much less graphics code to write (none ideally), and user – viewer should be pleased with what he sees.