

Abstract (in English):

This work deals with the use of condensed and abbreviated expressions in journalism. Based on the literature and compiled corpus of texts a research was conducted and a list of expressions was compiled. Expressions were compared with material from the Czech National Corpus and analyzed in terms of the way of formation, semantic groups, frequency of occurrence, stylistic characteristics and predicted addressee.