

Abstract

This bachelor thesis deals with the life and financial transactions of Václav Budovec of Budov. The first part covers the descent, education, political career, property, and family relations of the above-mentioned aristocrat. The main part deals with the aristocrat's financial relations with debtors and it strives to outline the total of loans and their paying off. The final part describes the construction of his family residence. The thesis ends with a conclusion. The aim of the thesis is to entirely address the life of Václav Budovec and to reveal so far unknown information and facts about him.
